Historical Data:

John Stuart, born in England in 1700, came through Charleston with General James Oglethorpe, founder of Georgia, in 1733. Thirty years later, he was appointed the British general agent for Indian affairs in the South. At one time when captured by the Cherokees, he was saved by Attakullakulla. With the breaking of the Revolution, he engaged to incite the Indians to war against the Whites. His plot being foiled and exposed, he fled to Florida, thence to England, where he died in 1779. His property was confiscated.
